Stone Mountain's own Rosebudd is a sharp-witted lyricist and super-producer putting the Eastside on the map. Inspired by her DJ family, she has crafted a sound that fuses witty Southern lyricism with futuristic, lo-fi beats, delivering music you can stack money to, chill out to, and get inspired by. With a steady stream of releases, including her recent EP Synthesis, she's become a respected name in Atlanta's underground. Her upcoming album Bloom Infinite is set to solidify her place as a visionary artist, blending hard-hitting beats with introspective, real-life storytelling.
